Re-shot plants

Description: New branches emerge from stressed or dying plants (once the stress has been overcome and conditions are more favourable).

Contributing factors: Late rain after drought conditions may encourage the plant to reflower.

Management: This makes decisions as to windrowing (swathing) date very difficult.

Images: S Marcroft, MGP